Bay Area Youth Activists Stage Response to COP26 Climate Summit Saturday 11/6 Local Bay Area youth march sparks a global day of action across 26 countries

The poster features the 350 Bay Area logo at the top left. Below it, the text reads: 'Join us for the Bay Area March for COP26'. The date 'Nov. 6th' is followed by the time '11:30 AM - 1:00 PM' and the location 'Sproul Plaza, Berkeley → Civic Center, Berkeley'. A 'Climate Action' section encourages attendees to show local and state officials attending COP that day, with the hashtag #YouthAreWatchingCOP. The right side of the poster shows a black and white photograph of a young woman shouting into a megaphone.

BERKELEY, Calif. November 3, 2021 – Youth activists with 350 Bay Area, the regional climate action organization, are marching on Saturday, November 6th in response to the world leaders who are currently meeting in Glasgow for the 26th Conference of Parties (COP26) Global Climate Summit. The youth-led Mobilizing Team of 350 Bay Area’s is marching in solidarity with climate groups around the globe to call attention to this major moment in the fight against the climate crisis globally.

“Historically, conferences like COP26 have often failed to deliver the results promised.

There is no longer time to accept empty environmental rhetoric from politicians. Broad and loud voices from the public demanding actual change remain crucial in times like these. Although Saturday’s march is youth-led, we need all communities or all ages to join us. We need bold action from our global leaders now,” said Ava Stern, 350 Bay Area Mobilizing Team member and climate youth activist.
